LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

With each season, I count myself more fortunate to have access and time to enjoy the tree-lined, untamed waters of the river. From the calm, quiet in the early morning with the sun at a low angle, a humid, musky smell, and a bit of fog hovering over the water, to those hot, summer days where the tubers, paddlers, and swimmers jostle for room on a bustling river. I am thankful that we – this community that calls the Huron its home waters – find the courage to protect the river for current and future generations.

Home waters is a term used by anglers to refer to your home river. I am proud to share the stories of what we've accomplished this past year in our home waters where we find clean drinking water, abundant recreational activities, unique and diverse wildlife, and solace.

Your contributions of money and time allow us to be the crucial link between environmental problems and effective solutions and actions –

- We educate the public, businesses, and decision makers on the problems and the solutions.
- We secure funds for these solutions.
- We advocate for policy changes.
- We identify emerging threats and demand action.
- We get out in the rivers, lakes, and woods to monitor the conditions and measure progress.

We can do this because of you!

Thank you for your friendship and support of HRWC.

MISSION

The Huron River Watershed Council protects and restores the river for healthy and vibrant communities.

VISION

We envision a future of clean and plentiful water for people and nature where citizens and government are effective and courageous champions for the Huron River and its watershed.

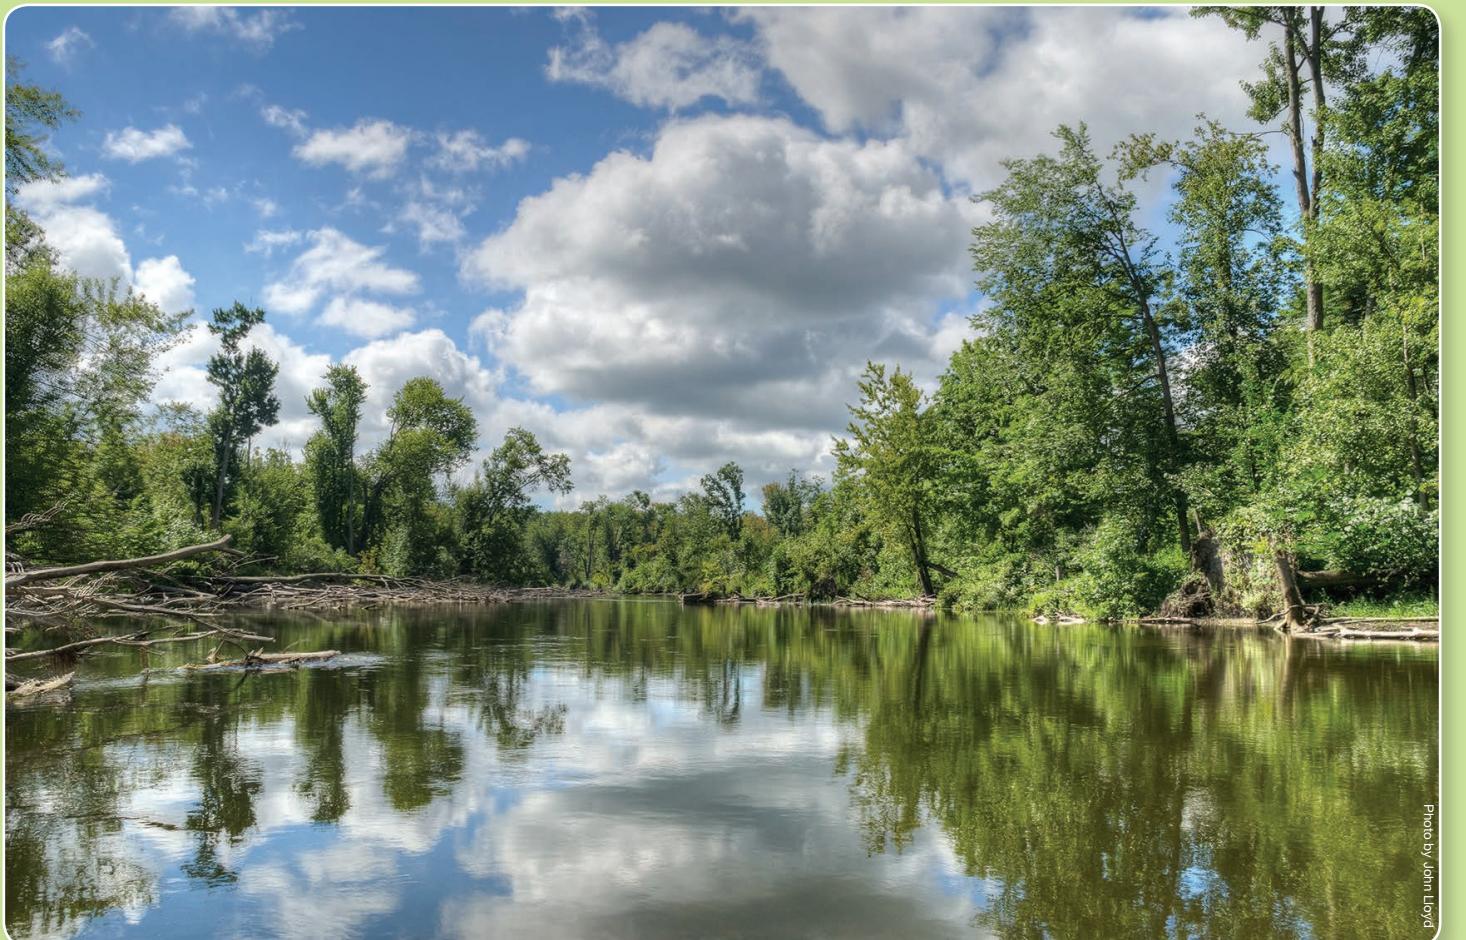

CORE VALUES

We work with a collaborative and inclusive spirit to give all partners the opportunity to become stewards;

Generate science-based, trustworthy information for decision makers to ensure reliable supplies of clean water and resilient natural systems; and Passionately advocate for the health of the river and the lands around it.

Look What We Achieved Together Last Year

The Huron's Natural River District offers some of the best outdoor recreation and wildlife habitat in Michigan.

UPHOLDING PROTECTIONS IN THE NATURAL RIVER DISTRICT

The Huron River keeps good company as one of only 16 State Natural Rivers, and one of two in southern Michigan. State protection of riverbanks from building in favor of natural vegetation maintains the unique natural beauty of one-third of the river in Livingston and Washtenaw counties. 40 years after designation, we are renewing awareness of the district and ensuring that protections remain in place. We called together five community partners to meet the State Program Director, and worked one-on-one with each to agree on roles and responsibilities for maintaining the district. These steps offer a strong prescription for protecting our home waters.

PATRICK ERTEL, Fisheries Division, MDNR: “The partnership with HRWC has been valuable in several natural resource issues. But their work to bring attention to the importance of the Natural Rivers designation of the Huron has been unparalleled. They have brought the importance of the district to the forefront of community conversations. Most importantly, HRWC has fostered an ongoing dialogue among residents, local governments, parks, the State of Michigan, and conservation organizations in a non-threatening, partnership driven manner.”

ADVOCATING FOR SAFER SEALERS

Our communities and residents responded to our call to eliminate carcinogenic coal tar-based sealcoat. We took the lead on research, education, and advocacy to get toxic sealcoat out of the Huron. 10,000 residents received the brochure "Risks of Coal Tar-based Sealcoat" and television media picked up the story. Van Buren Township was the first watershed community to ban coal tar and other high PAH sealcoats, and many more communities are on their way to local bans.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE KRISTY PAGAN, 21st District: “As the lead sponsor of House Bill 5174, a bill to prohibit the use and sale of coal-tar based sealants with high PAH levels in Michigan, it has been an honor to work in partnership with HRWC. This collaborative effort to educate and advocate on this important environmental and public health issue will help Michigan lead the way in protecting our communities from these toxic chemicals. I am thankful for HRWC's leadership and I am confident that, together, we will safeguard and preserve both our waterways and the health of all of our citizens.”

Safe sealer alternatives are available.

INVESTIGATING AN AILING CREEK

We are in the midst of a three-year study of Norton Creek, working with the local communities, businesses, and residents to create a plan to restore and protect this creek in southeastern Oakland County. Norton Creek suffers from low oxygen and high nutrients that harm fish and aquatic insects living there. Our staff and volunteers canvassed the 24-square mile area and documented the extent of damage and likely sources of pollution. The greatly anticipated plan (release date: October 2017) will provide the first comprehensive study of the problems and a blueprint for healing this ailing creek.

Mary Bacjz and Larry Scheer monitor Norton Creek.

MARY BACJZ, HRWC Board Member, and Volunteer: “As a participant in River Roundups searching Norton Creek, I wondered why we found so few macroinvertebrates that are indicators of good water quality. I'm glad that the HRWC has been working to find answers to that question and solutions to Norton Creek's problems. As a member of the culvert survey team, it was interesting to find that culverts are not part of the problem.”

Your Contributions at Work

TEACHING TOMORROW'S SCIENTISTS

800 students from 15 schools participated in HRWC's streamside education program. By investing in STEM education today, we are creating tomorrow's scientists and decision makers for water resources. Under the tutelage of 40 volunteer educators, middle and high school students engaged in field-based learning about biology, chemistry, and ecology.

ETHAN LOWENSTEIN, Ph.D., Director of the Southeast Michigan Stewardship Coalition, Professor of Teacher Education at Eastern Michigan University:

I can't say enough about the HRWC's STEM Program in schools. The need for young people to connect with nature is critical and teachers often can't manage Huron River investigations on their own. On a recent excursion with 60 ninth graders from Ypsilanti, I saw young people light up with the joy of being by the river while simultaneously being riveted to the science content they were learning. HRWC facilitators and volunteers are expert at what they do and teachers always know that they are in good hands. It's hard to imagine environmental education in our region without HRWC.

Middle school students learn about stream health.

REVITALIZING THE RIVER CORRIDOR

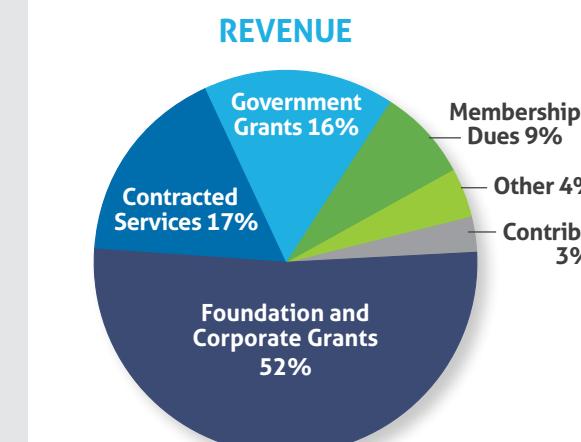

Osprey are in comeback mode on the Huron! We installed two nesting platforms for the fish-eating bird of prey as part of a regional effort to restore their population. Prior to the early 20th century, osprey lived throughout Michigan, but they were depleted due to overuse of harmful pesticides. Thanks to a concerted effort to re-establish osprey in Michigan, the number increased from 81 pairs in 1975 to 166 by 1988, and has been on the rise ever since.

Osprey (Pandion haliaetus) spend summers breeding in Michigan.

LUBA SITAR, Manager, Customer Relations & Community Education, ITC Holdings Corp: We joined this project because it was a natural fit for a high voltage transmission company to want to develop platforms that would keep the osprey away from our transmission lines. We look for groups like the Huron River Watershed Council to provide us with expertise in natural resource projects.

TOTAL REVENUES: $1,588,614

50% GROWTH OVER 5 YEARS

TOTAL EXPENSES: $1,559,096

Thanks to your generous support, we continued to grow and produce remarkable results as a community of clean water champions. Incredibly, we've grown programs by 50% over the past 5 years! Our financial position is solid as highlighted by another clean opinion issued by our auditors, Cole, Newton & Duran. For a copy of our financial report, please contact Jennifer Kangas at jkangas@hrwc.org.

* Note: During the year, HRWC updated its policy regarding the treatment of deferred revenue and temporarily restricted revenue to more closely adhere to Revenue Recognition for Not for Profit Organizations. The change is reflected through a prior period adjustment.
